Prices for acid and rennet casein have held steady across both ranges this week. Oceania contacts report steady demand for acid casein from both domestic and international purchasers. Contacts report inventories of acid casein are available in Oceania but are not excessive. Milk production is declining in the region, following seasonal trends, contributing to lighter acid casein output. Demand for rennet casein is steady in Europe. Contacts report an uptick in milk production in the region has allowed manufacturers to output more rennet casein in recent weeks. Due to this, stakeholders say inventories of rennet casein have become less tight in recent weeks.

Prices for: Spot Sales And Up to 3 Month Contracts, Free on Board - Warehouse, Non-Restricted, All Mesh Sizes, Conventional, and Edible Casein

Acid; Price Range - $/LB:	3.7000-3.9000
