The price ranges for acid and rennet casein were unchanged this week. Contacts report demand for acid casein is steady to lighter in Oceania, though interest from purchasers in other countries is steady. Spot loads of acid casein are available for purchasing. Milk output is declining, following seasonal trends, in Oceania. Stakeholders say this is contributing to lighter acid casein production. In Europe, demand for rennet casein is unchanged from last week and spot purchasers say loads are available to meet their current needs. Rennet casein production is steady.
