Neither acid nor rennet casein prices changed this week on slow trading after price increases last week. European casein trading activity has slowed, according to contacts, as the reported case of Foot-and-Mouth Disease in Germany has disrupted trading activity in general. Lighter seasonal milk production in Oceania has kept casein buildups in check, but inventories are balanced to available to meet customer requests. Current market tones for casein are quiet to stable, despite the aforementioned disruptions in Europe.

Prices for: Spot Sales And Up to 3 Month Contracts, Free on Board - Warehouse, Non-Restricted, All Mesh Sizes, Conventional, and Edible Casein

Acid; Price Range - $/LB:	3.7000-4.1000
Rennet; Price Range - $/LB:	3.4500-3.7000

Information for the period January 20 - 24, 2025, issued weekly
