Acid and rennet casein prices were unchanged this week. Milk production continues to trend higher in Oceania, contributing to increased acid casein output. In Oceania, loads of acid casein are available for purchasing, and spot interest is picking up. Stakeholders say acid casein is moving steadily through contracts, while spot demand for acid casein from purchasers in other regions is unchanged. Contacts in Europe say demand for rennet casein is steady to lighter. Rennet casein production is waning as European milk output is seasonally declining. Contacts report inventories of rennet casein are somewhat snug, but spot purchasers are able to find loads to meet their immediate needs.

Prices for: Spot Sales And Up to 3 Month Contracts, Free on Board - Warehouse, Non-Restricted, All Mesh Sizes, Conventional, and Edible Casein

Acid; Price Range - $/LB:	3.7000-4.1000
Rennet; Price Range - $/LB:	3.5000-3.7500

Information for the period September 30 - October 4, 2024, issued weekly
