Direct Hay Weighted Average Report for week ending 8/22/2025

Compared to the last report: Hay prices are mostly steady across all regions with light to moderate demand. In the South, Coastal large round premium bales were moving at $100-$120 while little to no movement on utility hay. Adequate to excellent supplies were reported in all regions. According to the US Drought Monitor, the South saw widespread drought expansion over the week, despite scattered thunderstorms that brought brief, localized relief. Texas saw some improvements due to heavy rains and flooding in south-central counties earlier in the month that continued to ease drought there. Temperatures across the region stayed hot and humid, with heat index values topping 100°F in Texas and Oklahoma. Fire danger also crept higher in Oklahoma and Texas, where persistent heat and dry rangelands created favorable conditions for grassfires. Abnormal dryness (D0) formed in the Panhandle and north-central Texas. The next available hay report will be September 05, 2025.
