Market activity for dry whole milk (DWM) is slow. There is limited spot trading for DWM, a result of low demand. The price range declined at both ends of the range again this week. Many buyers remain cautious of the market and are only purchasing enough DWM to meet current needs.

Prices for: U.S., All First Sales, F.O.B., Conventional, and Edible Dry Whole Milk

Price Range - 26% Butterfat; $/LB:	1.7900 - 2.0100
